WINE MAKER'S NOTES "This was picked January 2014. It was -5 outside, so not quite Icewine temperatures. I didn't want to make Icewine with this fruit, especially with the little bit of Botrytis the site was blessed with. The acid stuck, and we stopped the fermentation at 10% alcohol where I thought the balance was best for the style of wine I was trying to create."

SOMMELIER'S NOTES "The nose is rich with honey, preserved lemon, caramel and white flowers. The palate is sweet, but not overly, with a cleansing and refreshing acidity. Bake a Brie in puff pastry, and skip the jam."
